Trafficking in human beings in the EU

The EU has a new directive on THB since April
Directive 2011/36/EU on preventing and combating trafficking in human beings and protecting its victims

EU member states have to bring into force its provisions by April 2013.

The EU has appointed a EU Anti-Trafficking Coordinator. MS should establish national rapporteurs.

→ THB is a serious political issue in the EU

Trafficking in human beings in the EU

The EU defines THB as a criminal offence.

Traffickers can get from 5 to 10 years of imprisonment.

The definition of THB is about exploitation:

THB always involves the recruitment or transport or transfer of a person across continents, countries, regions or cities, for the purpose of exploitation.

Trafficking in human beings in the EU

“Exploitation shall include, as a minimum, the exploitation of the prostitution of others or other forms of sexual exploitation, forced labour or services, including begging, slavery or practices similar to slavery, servitude, or the exploitation of criminal activities, or the removal of organs.” (Art 2.3)

→ As long as those forms of exploitation are tolerated, THB will happen to fuel the systems of exploitation.

A low risk – high reward activity...

✓ In the EU, the value of THB amounts to 3 billion euros (including internal THB)

→ We need to turn THB into a ‘high risk – low reward’ activity

Deterring traffickers and exploiters

The best ways to deter traffickers are to criminalise them and to eradicate the demand for exploitation.

- Consumer demand (including prostitute-users)
- Employer demand

No demand,
no supply,
no profit...

Demand for exploitation

The demand for exploitation (fueling trafficking in persons) proliferates in sector characterised by:

- ✓ Informality or illegality and poor regulation
- ✓ Low profit margins and low wage
- ✓ Low status unskilled work
- ✓ Temporary or seasonal employment

Demand can be reduced or fueled by government policies, social and cultural attitudes, and the economics of trafficking.

Addressing the demand

The EU directive suggests MS to take measures to discourage and reduce the demand that fosters all forms of exploitation related to THB (Article 18)

- ✓ Awareness raising campaigns
- ✓ Criminalisation of consumers and employers
- ✓ Minimum standards against exploitation (minimum wage, legal age for marriage, prohibition of child prostitution...)

THB is a gendered phenomenon

EUROPEAN WOMEN'S

THB is gendered

The EU directive “recognises the gender-specific phenomenon of trafficking, and that women and men are trafficked for different purposes” (recital 2)

This is due to the relative value and roles that societies attach to each gender.

THB is gendered

Women are mainly trafficked for sexual exploitation and domestic and care work.

- ✓ Women are reported to be victims in more than 80% of trafficking cases
- ✓ Women constitute 85% of the victims of trafficking for sexual exploitation

UNODC 2009 Global Report on Trafficking in Persons, and UNODC Preliminary findings of the human trafficking database (2003)

THB is gendered

Many women victims might face several forms of exploitation:

“In certain cases, the servants are forced to perform other tasks in addition to household-related ones, such as begging, selling in the streets, working in a restaurant, providing sexual services or prostitution.”

THB is gendered

In Ireland, migrant women make up 1/3 of elder care labor force and more than 1/3 of those working in private homes.

They are vulnerable workers: lack of employment alternatives, lack of social support networks, fear of being deported...

THB is gendered

New forms of THB are gendered and build on the tolerated violation of women's rights.

- ✓ 2009, 'Romanian scandal': Israeli doctors involved in the trafficking of eggs of young poor women in Romania, some of whom were only 15 years old.
- ✓ A 16-year-old factory worker was left in critical condition after the procedure

THB is gendered

Moreover, men and women suffer from trafficking differently.

✓ 95% of female victims said they experienced physical and sexual violence during trafficking.

This is due to gender inequality and the tolerance for violence against women.

THB is gendered

An example of the perpetuation of violence against women and violation of women's sexual and reproductive health and rights within THB:

Women from Nigeria, Ivory Coast and Cameroun, trafficked to Oujda, are forced to become pregnant, so that they are less likely to be deported. Some male migrants said they'd paid higher fee to be related to one of the pregnant women with the goal to claim family reunification under the Spanish law.

THB is gendered

Women and girls are also victims of organ trafficking:

In a survey performed in India, 71% of donors were female. When they were asked why they had acted as commercial living donors instead of their spouses, the most frequent reason proffered was that the man was the breadwinner and/or that he was ill.

Commercial living donors are frequently illiterate, which makes them especially vulnerable.

A lack of gendered policies

As THB is gendered, we need gendered policies to tackle trafficking.

EWL 2011 Barometer looks at National Action Plans (NAPs) on violence against women

→ The majority of NAPs on THB are gender blind...

The root causes of THB are gendered

We can reduce the vulnerability of women to THB by:

- ✓ Combating violence against women
- ✓ Ensuring women an equal access to and control over economic and financial resources
- ✓ Promoting respectful sexuality education
- ✓ Breaking stereotypes on migrant women, combating racism and developing legal migration paths in order to reduce their risk of becoming undocumented and homeless

The system of prostitution: the biggest drive for THB

✓ 79% of reported trafficking in human beings is for sexual exploitation

UNODC 2009 Global Report on Trafficking in Persons, and UNODC Preliminary findings of the human trafficking database (2003)

→ It is urgent to address the system of prostitution in order to stop trafficking for sexual exploitation

The system of prostitution: the biggest drive for THB

Trend of increasing prostitution use linked to:

- ✓ Increasingly consumer-oriented society
- ✓ Pushback against changing gender roles
- ✓ Greater mobility of populations
- ✓ Greater income disparities
- ✓ Greater access to prostitution as a result of the internet & a boom in prostitution and sex-related venues
